1.2004 届十月“惠州题”书面表达参考范文(书信):

109 Hequn Road
Guangzhou P.R.C.
5th September

Dear Jack (Brown),

Maybe you are surprised to receive my letter. Do you still remember your visiting Guangzhou in August? On the last day of your trip, a farewell was given at the Youth Palace. At the party I happened to sit next to you. Then when we went away, we took each other's notebooks by mistake. I discovered this only when I looked into the notebook and found your name and address inside. I am now sending your notebook by post to you. Will you please send my notebook to me at the address that is on the top? I'll be very appreciated about that.

I hope you will visit Guangzhou again soon.

2. 2004 届高三摸底考试书面表达参考范文(议论文):

Both bicycles and cars are important for traveling. Bicycles are ridden by people and they go slowly while cars are driven by drivers and they run fast. In addition, bicycles can be put almost anywhere while cars need garages or parking places.

Whether one prefers a car or a bicycle depends on where you live, what your habit is or how much you earn. because of the above consideration, most Chinese like to ride bicycles while most Americans enjoy driving cars.

I, of course, would like a bicycle better. It doesn't cost very much, yet it brings me a lot of convenience. What's more, it doesn't pollute the air. Also riding a bicycle can make you fit.

3. 2004 届高三九月月考书面表达参考范文(议论文):

Studying Abroad

In recent years, studying abroad has been popular. I think, like a coin, everything has two sides.

There are many advantages in attending schools abroad. First, we can learn foreign languages more quickly in a language-speaking environment. Second, we can learn much more advanced knowledge of science and technology from foreign countries with a wide view. Third, students studying abroad can exchange different cultures with different people.

However, there are some disadvantages. Most of the students are too young to live alone without any living experience. Besides, being far away from their home country, they may feel lonely and homesick. Also, the costs are much higher than those at home.

In my opinion, it is considerable to attend schools abroad.

4. “四位一体” 前测书面表达参考范文(书信):

Dear editor,

I'm writing to tell you about my opinion on Chinese students going abroad for further studies at an early age.

I agree that Chinese students going to study abroad helps us to know more about foreign countries, but I don't think it necessary for us to do that so early.

The education in China and that in foreign countries both have advantages and disadvantages. The most important thing for us Chinese students at an early age is to know our country, our people and our culture well. Without that, we'll have no enough ability to have a good understanding of other countries, people and cultures.

Besides, going to study in foreign countries at a too early age not only costs money, it can also bring serious problems. Taking care of themselves is one of them.

Yours truly
Zhang Ping

5. 2004 届高三十月份月考书面表达参考范文(日记):

March 15 Saturday Fine

About thirty German students came to visit our school today.

We gathered at the school gate at 8 o'clock to give them a warm welcome. Then we had a get-together in the gymnasium, where we sang some songs to show the friendship between the people in both countries. Our headmaster told them something about our school. And then we talked with each other and exchanged gifts. From nine thirty we showed them around our school. They visited our classroom buildings, the lab building, and the dormitories. A friendly basketball game started on the sports ground at ten thirty. At twelve o'clock all German students left our school.

We have learnt a lot from each other during the communication.

6. 2003NMET 书面表达参考范文(书信):

Dear Bob,

I'm so glad to learn that you're coming in September. I've found a place for you. It's a small flat of 25 square metres, with a bedroom, a bathroom and a kitchen. In the bedroom there is a bed, a sofa, a desk and a chair. The rent is 500 Yuan per month. The flat is in a building on Fangcao Street, which is not far from Jianxin Chinese School. Bus No. 11 Can take you straight to the school. In fact, it is only one stop. Do you think you'd like it? If not, I can try and find another place for you. Just let me know.

7. 《周报》 No. 12 书面表达参考范文(演讲稿):

Ladies and gentlemen,

Good afternoon. I'm very glad to have a chance to make a speech on the subject—A Balance Diet and Health.

We can use a Food Pyramid to show what we need and how much food we need in our daily life. The higher the food lies in the form, the less we need the food. For example, chocolate is on the top of the pyramid, which means we need it very little, because it's high in calories.

Grain contains rich complex carbohydrate, which provides us with the energy to live on. It is right for us to have vegetables, fruit and nuts. As you see, there are fibre and various vitamins in them to help us to keep healthy and strong. Also we should have meat, eggs and milk because they are rich in protein, which can build our muscles.

That's all. Thank you.

8. Should we know parents' income? 参考答案(归纳总结):

Most of us think that we should know our parents' income. It will help us understand how hard our parents have to work, no matter how much they earn. Then we will study harder and will not waste money any more. We may also learn to share our parents' trouble.

Others think it is unnecessary for us to know how much our parents earn. If we know our parents have enough money, some of us will not study hard since they needn't worry about the future.

I think the most important thing is to know the fact that people need to work for their money and they should learn to make the best use of money. (116 words)

9. 高三(下)课本 P. 178 Comparing the USA and China

Something about the USA and the PRC are similar, while other things are different.

The two countries are about the same size, but the PRC is a little larger. However, the population of the PRC is many times larger with a population of over 1.3 billion. Another difference is the time. Although the PRC is very large, the whole country uses Beijing time. On the other hand, there are five different time zones in the USA.

Many different languages are spoken in China, for example, Chinese, Mongolian, Korean. In the USA, though many different languages are also spoken, the main language is English. Both countries have many different minority groups. And in both countries, the big cities are in the east.

10. 2003 上期期末题书面表达参考范文(调查报告):

Extracurricular Activities in Our School

Students in our school now have extracurricular activities from 3:35 pm to 5:05 pm on Tuesday and Thursday, and the whole morning on Saturday. Showing great interest in these activities, the students form interest groups of various subjects. Some have sports, others practice singing and dancing. Among these, lectures, computer, English and sports are our favourites.

And we hope that we will have more choices of different courses. Also we'll be given less homework to do so that we will have more time for extracurricular activities. In our opinion, more visits to factories, shops and other places should be arranged so that we can know better what is going on outside school.
